

Robin Rothrock

Artist Statement

As a young surfer growing up in Satellite Beach, (near Cocoa Beach,) Florida, I fell in love with the sky and the ocean. These works are a response to living land-locked in Shreveport, Louisiana for twenty-five years where I've had to recreate the sky and ocean I hold dear. Combining the beauty of nature with serendipity, water plays a major role in the conception and production of these works. Seeking balance between wet and dry, and using my hot tub as a tool, I manipulate my medium of acrylic on paper, exploring textures and colors from opaque to transparent, and allowing intention and flexibility to flow into new ideas.

I think of myself as a young artist -- training for ten years under Bruce Allen, head of the Centenary College art department -- to be just at the beginning of my artistic endeavors. I have been developing this innovative approach to painting for the last five years. It is my hope that the viewers can call forth their own emotional associations with sky and ocean and travel by experiencing these suggestive and often planetary-inspired works which establish an organic and textural glimpse of our world and beyond.
